ica, will bring the second cable from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil to Virginia Beach in the first quarter of 2018.

Additional cables are being planned, and additional announcements are pending.

“The Globalinx Data Center will offer highly designed and resilient data center space options to a multitude of telecommunications content providers, social media, data center cloud solutions and data center operators desiring access to this new international connectivity point,” said Greg Twitt, CEO of Globalinx Data Center, LLC. “The project is located on an excellent pre-vetted site near the newly announced Telefonica cable landing station. We have witnessed data center and technology growth in other markets with international connectivity points and believe the Globalinx Data Center will provide similar opportunities in the Virginia Beach area.”

The center will be served by a 34.5 kV, three-phase primary underground distribution feeder with a nearby 115 kV transmission line in the Corporate Landing Business Park. It will also offer multi-phase expansion capabilities.

Five 9s Digital of Charlotte, N.C., will handle the marketing and leasing of the project. The Five 9s Digital team has been in the data center industry since the late 1990s and has been involved in development, ownership and management of multiple mission-critical facilities from build-to-suit facilities to multi-tenant data centers. Major occupants include Green Flash Brewing Co., GEICO, Liberty Tax and JES/KBH. Additionally, Corporate Landing Business Park offers robust and low-cost energy through Dominion Virginia Power.

Telefonica is also in the process of building its cable landing station on a 3.5-acre site in Corporate Landing to support international fiber traffic for the new ultra-high-speed transoceanic telecommunications cables landing in Virginia Beach.
